Risk Benefit Assessment for The mud kitchen

Benefits:	Physical development Fresh air Friendship and relationships Being creative Time to explore
Risks:	Injury from falls & trips. Injury from being hit by pots and equipment. Germs / berries going into mouths. Injury from thorns. Cuts from broken equipment.
Risk Management:	Pots and pans and equipment are not to be thrown. Keep hands away from mouths. Wash hands after play. If picking berries, do it carefully. Respectful play – no pushing or snatching. Tell and adult if a piece of equipment is broken. Do not climb on the equipment. All children reminded not to put anything at all into their mouths.
Good play	Pretend to cook a meal. Experiment by mixing different things. Compare how much each pan can hold. Experiment with different textures.
Conclusion:	You can all play with the tyres! The benefits outweigh the risk.
